Please find our Supplemental Statement of Water Diversion and Use Form showing our estimated water use and diversion for 2005, 2006 and 2007. I have also included a diagram showing our water diversion flows which I updated with current flow estimates based on water usage and seasonal flows. Also I am sending back the form for S000697 which we do not believe applies to us as it is shown to be on Section 31. If you have any additional information on S000697 that might be helpful in identifying it's location that may assist us in determining if it applies to Collins Pine Co.

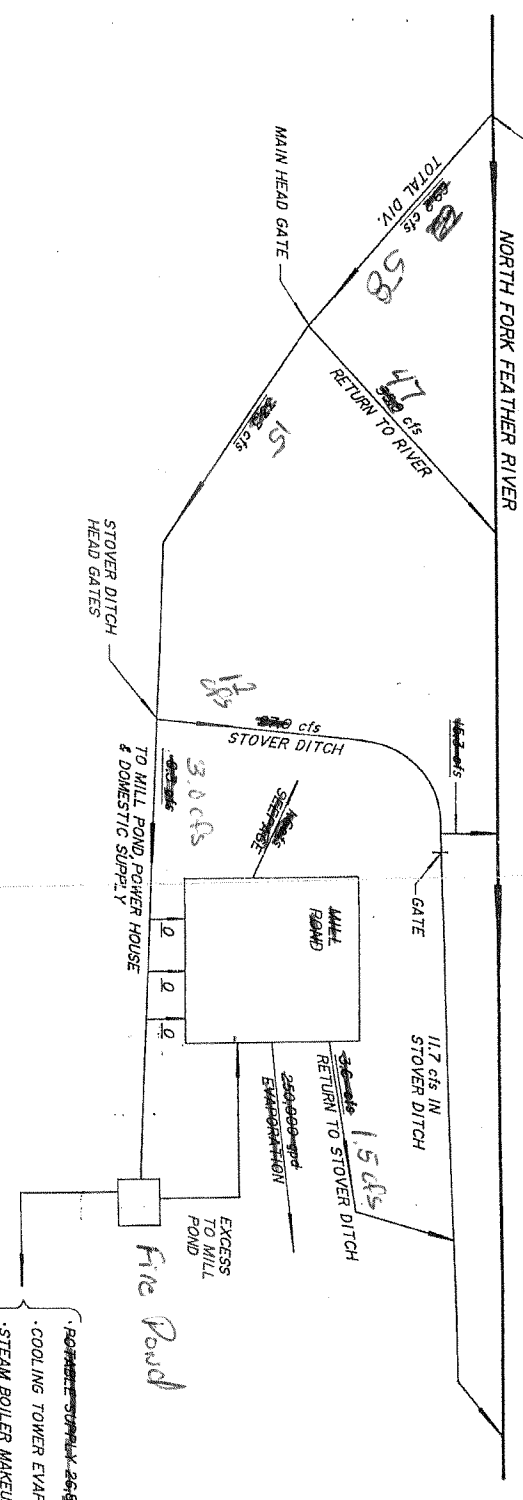

The flow estimates on our diversion is a best guess on seasonal flows. The diversion on the Feather River is and uncontrolled diversion and any water not used to supply Stover Ditch and mill water needs is diverted by a gate directly back to the Feather River.
If there are any questions or concerns please feel free to contact me so that they may be properly addressed.

Sincerely,

Walter Nystrom
Co-Gen Supervisor

GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA

There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same watershed as the water source and must never have been severed from the sources of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or to divert water which originates in a different watershed, water previously stored by others, return flows from use of groundwater, or other "foreign" water to the natural stream system.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on non-riparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. After the formation of the California Water Commission back on December 19, 1914, new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State. Appropriative rights can be granted to waters "foreign" to the natural stream system.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre-1914 appropriative water users as set forth in Water Code section 5100 with specific exceptions. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversions, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include: (1) Statements of Water Diversion and Use, (2) Information Pertaining to Water Rights in California, and (3) Appropriation of Water in California.
